Kanhaiya Kumar — Founder, Keynote

I've lived this problem

- Launching a real product takes months, developers, and complex tools
- I faced this firsthand while building and deploying systems
- That's why I built Keynote – to eliminate the entire build phase

What I've built

- A platform that launches complete online businesses instantly
- Website + Android + iOS + backend + admin – fully automated
- Built-in SEO, monetization, analytics, and scaling
- From idea → revenue-ready business in minutes

Proof of execution

- 40+ paying customers acquired organically
- Live production systems running today
- Bootstrapped from zero to revenue

Why I win

- Built the entire platform end-to-end, solo (speed + control)
- Deep full-stack expertise across infrastructure to frontend
- Built for my own need – strong founder-market fit
- Vision: automate business creation globally

How Investors Make Money

Multiple ways to win as Keynote scales

1

SaaS Compounding Revenue

- Every business pays $10 → $2,000/month
- Every new customer increases ARR instantly

Base layer of compounding cash flow

2

Marketplace & Ecosystem Upside

- Revenue beyond SaaS: ads, promotions, transactions
- Revenue grows per customer — not just from new customers

More usage = more revenue per customer

3

Massive Market Capture

- 100M+ businesses globally
- Multi-vertical expansion: News, E-commerce, Restaurants, Education + more

Each new business adds recurring + expanding revenue

4

Network Effects = Exponential Growth

- More businesses → more users
- More users → more revenue
- More revenue → attracts more businesses

Growth becomes automatic — driven by the platform itself

5

Exit & Valuation Upside

- SaaS: 5x – 15x+ ARR multiples
- Platforms/Marketplaces: premium multiples
- Keynote = SaaS + Marketplace hybrid

$100M ARR → $500M–$1.5B valuation potential

Invest early — capture compounding ARR + platform multiples at scale.

Funding Ask

We've proven demand. Now we're scaling distribution.
